DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1-12 are objected to because of the following informalities: in claim 1, abbreviations need to be defined before its use in a claim. Claim 1 uses abbreviation (W/O) and no definition of the term is given. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is vague and indefinite since the amount of the additive in the paper has not been recited. Note that the amount of additives could be expressed in terms of the function, i.e., an effective amount for the purpose. In claim 7, the phrase "non-ionic surfactant," lacks of antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1731

5. Claims 1-2, 4-5, 7 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Elstner et al., WO 96/08601A, or Ansmann et al., WO 2000/04230. Note that both references have been included in Information Disclosure Statement of paper no.5.

Both inventions, Elstner et al. and Ansmann et al. teach emulsions for treatment of Paper/Tissues having an oil, Polysiloxane in Elstner et al. and the partial Glycerides compounds of Ansmann et al.; a humectant, polyglycol and derivatives; and a non-ionic emulsifier, glycerol and derivatives in Elstner et al. and fatty acid alkyl esters and fatty alcohols in Ansmann et al.. Note that the amount of the additives is within the claimed range, see abstract.

It seems that Elstner et al. and Ansmann et al. teach all the limitations of the above claims or at least the minor modification(s) to obtain the claimed inventions would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 3, 6, 8-9 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art does not teach nor fairly suggest the impregnation of paper/Tissue with an water in oil emulsion having: the oil components of claims 3 and 6-8, the use of an emulsifier of the type claimed in claim 9, nor the specifics components of claim 12 .

Art Unit: 1731

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure in the art of "Uses of Lotion in Paper."
